Oxford Materials Alumni Step 1

Welcome to the official LinkedIn resource for alumni of the Department of Materials at Oxford University. Please join us to connect with classmates, graduates and peers, share your experiences, ask questions and gain access to the latest information and developments from Oxford Materials and elsewhere.

Please note that the Department will verify eligibility of all members of this group.

Our Alma Mater's current objectives are to produce world class graduate materials scientists and engineers, and to conduct world class research into the manufacture, structure, properties and applications of materials, for the benefit of the UK and world community.
